Boy was killed by 'arrogant driving'

BY COURT REPORTER

editor@onemk.co.uk

AN 'ARROGANT' motorist who was 'sick and tired' of children playing on his driveway killed his neighbour's five-year-old son by running him over, a jury has ruled.

The parents of Riley Ferguson wept at Aylesbury Crown Court on Friday as the jurors returned the guilty verdict and a judge paid tribute to them for sitting through David Cowell's trial and hearing how he killed their only son. The court was told Cowell, now of Deacon Crescent, Middleton, had complained to his neighbours about their children playing on his driveway but he claimed he only spoke to them because he was concerned for their welfare. The 42-year-old also said he was focused on another child and did not see Riley.

However jurors convicted Cowell of a single charge of causing death by careless driving and he was told he must return to the same court to be sentenced for his 'horrendous' crime on Friday, October 21.

Jurors heard how Cowell had left his home in Woodspring Court, Monkston, on June 7 last year to run an errand and had returned shortly after. Neighbours saw his car slow down as he turned into the shared driveway before crashing into Riley.

"This young boy lost his life because the defendant was fed up with the young kids playing on the driveway," said Judge Francis Sheridan. "He was focused on a young child because he wanted to get up close to her and make the point 'what are you doing on my driveway again'?

"Had he been looking forwards, he would have seen this little boy."

"It was arrogant and unnecessary driving and, as a result, the Fergusons have lost their only son."

"He should never have lost his life. He was there to be seen as the experts agreed. To drive over his head is just horrendous."

"I wish to pay tribute to Mr and Mrs Ferguson for their immense dignity."

Tasty: Gez Chiariello tucks into a Krispy Kreme delivered by Tim Prentice from the CMK store

Doughnut run to thank police

A DELIVERY of more than 200 doughnuts was taken to Milton Keynes Police Station in Witan Gate, CMK, to thank officers for their hard work.

Krispy Kreme and MKFM came together for the delivery on Monday, with the city's police chief Gez Chiariello on hand to welcome the doughnuts.

MKFM's managing director Darren Dorrington said: "We do the doughnut run to local organisations every day.

"We felt that after a very difficult few weeks for the police with everything that has been going on that they deserved a treat to thank them for their service."

Homes mark end of an era

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

NEW homes could be built on the former Aston Martin site in Newport Pagnell if plans are given the go-ahead.

Planning permission for 86 houses in Tickford Street has been recommended for approval by Milton Keynes Council planning officers and a decision is expected to be made at the authority's development control committee meeting tomorrow night.

As part of the proposed development, three buildings associated with Aston Martin will be retained and could become a museum to celebrate the popular cars made famous in the James Bond films.

The Redrow Homes development has been largely met with a positive reaction from the community.

In 2011 Tesco was given planning permission for the site but the development was shelved.

The fact there are plans for housing rather than a supermarket has pleased Newport Pagnell Business Association chairman Brian Rudd.

He said: "We didn't really want a Tesco there as it would have been to the detriment of the High Street so from that point of view we're pleased it isn't going to be a supermarket. I think housing there is the best solution for the site."

Newport Pagnell town councillor Paul Alexander felt the area could have benefitted from a supermarket, but was happy there are plans for the site – which has stood vacant for years – to be used.

"I think this will be positive for Newport Pagnell," he added.

Economy plays part in rat rise

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

MORE rats are being found in the city due to the growth of the population and economic downturn.

Milton Keynes Council says it has noticed an increase in the amount of call-outs to deal with the rodents – an issue that is being reflected across the country.

The problem was raised by Councillor David Hopkins at a Milton Keynes Council meeting last month, where he told members that there was a problem with rats in Caldecotte.

In an official response that he received this week from the council, the authority said that chicken food was attracting more rats in Caldecotte over the summer, but that when it checked the area in July there was no further evidence of them.

The statement said: "Recently, as in many locations across the country, the council has been starting to experience more pest related issues on our land than previously. There are many reasons but it could be argued the top two are the increase in population tends to increase the number of pests, and the economic downturn also tends to result in an increase.

"The council manages its own land and environmental health officers respond to sightings and/or requests from any residents to deal with any problems."

Woman, 82, sexually assaulted

AN 82-YEAR-OLD woman has been the victim of a 'horrendous' daylight sex attack in Bletchley.

She was walking on the redway running alongside Buckingham Road, behind Windmill Hill Drive, at about 1pm on Friday.

A man pushed her to the floor from behind and sexually assaulted her. They then walked off towards Bletchley.

The offender is described as white, of large build and in his early to mid-20s. He was wearing a black beanie hat, black jacket and black trousers. He was carrying a black rucksack over both shoulders.

Designated investigator Samantha Arnold, of Local CID based at Milton Keynes Police Station, said: "The victim is being supported by Thames Valley Police following this horrendous incident.

"I would particularly like to speak to a man who was walking a dog, believed to be a white dog, possibly a husky, along the redway prior to the offence.

"I would also like to speak to a man, about 60 years old, seen picking blackcurrants near to the scene."

Anyone with information is urged to call police on 101.

CAN it really be 28 years ago that Michael Jackson performed an unforgettable gig at The National Bowl?

September 10, 1988 is definitely one of those 'were you there?' moments in the history of Milton Keynes and possibly one of the most memorable gigs ever held in the city.

It was the second leg of Jacko's Bad tour – incredibly his first ever solo tour – and followed on from an unparalleled series of seven sold out shows at Wembley Stadium in July and August.

Archive footage shows The King Of Pop sweeping into the Bowl in an impressive motor cavalcade, complete with police escort, having driven to the New City from London.

He was late on stage for the sold out gig and rumour has it that he was oblivious to the fact the concert was going ahead until an aide broke the news to him a couple of hours earlier in his hotel suite.

But what a show. This was Jacko at the height of his game. The singing, dancing and choreography, all ground breaking, establishing Jackson as a unique and peerless performer. And the MK Bowl as Britain's premiere outdoor venue. What a shame that hasn't continued.

■ EDC returns to the Bowl – read more on page 20.

Your views on parking on our Facebook page
/OneMKNews

Tray Read: My neighbours park across the whole blooming path as they think it's their driveway but my son's disabled so have to walk in the road to get past. They should get fined really.

Donna Dryden: We have two lots of neighbours that have drives but they park on the path/road? Why buy a house with a drive when you don't use it crazy humans!

Carrie Pants Cook: Same on Springfield. I have too often walked in the road with my buggy, which isn't on when there is a drive!

Francesca Maria: The whole of Wolverton is terrible for parking.

Roberta Cherian: The problem is people move into small homes, stuff their garages with their extra possessions and worse still some of them own three to four cars, with parking for one car on their drives. Surely this adds to the problem.

Lynn Blackburn: In Springfield at school finish time some of the drivers have no consideration to pedestrians at all and it's even worse when you are pushing a buggy – you end up on the road.

Rachel Simpson Morse: Maybe the people who build the housing stock should add extra parking, it might help as not enough parking is being provided. At one point it was one car per household now with the kids staying at home longer through lack of housing and not being able to afford a property as it's too expensive there are two or three cars per house. Not everyone has drives and not all houses have parking available. Not saying it's okay to block up paths.

Discovery: Cally Jenkins buying guides to Vietnam from Rita Barratt and Angela Austin, who are volunteers at Willen Hospice's bookshop

A novel place to discover guide books

WITH less than 12 months to go until a group of fundraisers will be trekking across Vietnam in aid of Willen Hospice, one of them has discovered some useful information at the charity's bookshop.

OneMK's editor Cally Jenkins will be taking part in the Vietnam Trek

Adventure and found some guide books on the country at Willen Hospice's bookshop in Stony Stratford.

The High Street shop has been run by more than 30 volunteers since it reopened six months ago following the threat of closure.

Volunteer Angela Austin

said: "We sell a wide range of books - we can usually find something on most topics. Every high street should have a bookshop."

The trek takes place from September 30 to October 8, 2017.

Officers mourn popular DC Joe

BY SUE WEBB
editor@onemk.co.uk

POLICE officers from Milton Keynes were this week mourning the loss of a much-loved and respected colleague.

Det Con Joe Mabuto collapsed and died at Milton Keynes Police Station last Tuesday morning.

The officer, thought to be in his 30s, was understood to be laughing with colleagues moments before suffering a heart attack.

His funeral, with full honours, is being held tomorrow.

row at The Church of Christ the Cornerstone in Saxon Gate, CMK.

Dozens of tributes have been paid to the late police officer on OneMK's Facebook page:

Amy Jennings called DC Mabuto a 'gentle giant and true gentleman. MK is a less joyous place without you big fella', while Carmella Gordon said: 'A gentle giant and caring ex-colleague who will be sadly missed. My heart goes out to his wife and family. RIP big man.'

Comments were left from many colleagues, who

Vince Higgins said: 'He was a gentleman and always dealt with people in the most professional manner, always had a smile and never looked down upon those he dealt with. He will be sadly missed by all. My thoughts go out to his family.'

Dawn Washburn voiced the thoughts of many, saying: 'Gentleman doesn't go far enough to say how truly caring this man was.'

For more tributes, see the page opposite.

Wasp fire warning

FIREFIGHTERS have urged people not to try to get rid of wasps' nests using fire after a garage burned down on Sunday.

Crews were called to Oakwood Drive in Bletchley at 2.20pm after the garage was severely damaged.

The first floor of the house was also slightly damaged by smoke. One appliance and crew from Bletchley, two from Great Holm and one from Broughton attended, along with an officer.

Paramedics treated two men suffering from the effects of breathing in smoke.

More near misses recorded

STAFF at roadwork sites are increasingly at risk from drivers who ignore safety signs and speed limits.

Near misses at roadworks have increased according to data released by Milton Keynes Council showing that 120 incidents have been recorded this year so far.

This number is up from 113 near misses reported on MK roads in the whole of 2015.

In many cases, drivers were breaking the speed limit in areas where roadworks were taking place. Speed restrictions, diversion signs and cones manage traffic and ensure staff are safe.

Fundraiser for homeless

MK PEOPLE'S Assembly is organising a community fundraising event in aid of the Winter Night Shelter, which helps homeless people in the city.

The event will take place on Saturday, October 15 at the skate park outside the Old Bus Station.

There will be live music and other entertainment as well as stalls with information about community groups and projects in Milton Keynes.

Family home to fund orphanage

House swap: Amjad Mahmood, pictured below, is selling his home to raise cash for an orphanage

editor@onemk.co.uk

A NOT-SO-LITTLE piece of Milton Keynes history is up for sale – for a remarkable philanthropic cause.

The sale of the property – in historic Marshworth – will eventually go towards funding the building of an orphanage in Pakistan.

Although the plans are in their infancy, it is an idea that has been considered for a while – and the time is now right to put the first stage of the plan into action.

The sale of Amjad Mahmood's family home of 18 years will help to fund the 'bucket list' dream. "It will be the M&S of orphanages," smiled database designer Amjad, 52, who has seven children with his wife. "Good education, good care and good housing."

"Orphanages in Pakistan are different to the UK – if the breadwinner, usually the father, dies, the mother often can't afford to look after her family. There is no social support. So they have to send their children to the orphanage, especially from the more rural areas."

The Mahmood family home is one of just 22 homes in Marshworth – the only road in the city to have been built by the Milton Keynes Development Corporation (MKDC). All the other roads, including those on the neighbouring Tinkers Bridge estate, were built by individual developers.

There was one, rather transparent, reason – the homes were built by MKDC for its own senior managers. While Netherfield and Coffee Hall were being built in the late '60s look of uniform properties in a utilitarian style, Marshworth's homes were staggered, on large plots, with the finishing touch – a full garden-width pergola, which gave the properties private access to the Grand Union Canal. No-one could have anticipated this unique home, on the market for £750,000 with Connells and House Simple, would be providing a home for others in a very different part of the world.

Eco house is the star

A £1.6MILLION eco house in Olney was featured in the national press this weekend.

BeesHive, in Weston Road, provides its own heat and water and is made from local stone and sustainable timber.

The property was featured in the Mail on Sunday (MoS), which focused on four beehives in the garden – although the property's name is associated with the initials of owners Brenda and Brian Thorogood and their busy lifestyle, rather than bumble bees.

According to the MoS, the harvesting of rainwater cuts the amount of mains water used, while heating is provided by twin ground-source heat pumps. The house also has climate-control, water-based underfloor heating and an air exchange ventilation system.

The property is being marketed through Michael Graham.

Rubbish: An artist's impression of the facility, which will not open until May

Delay's a waste

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

A 'FLAGSHIP' waste facility is now scheduled to open in May next year, five months behind schedule, due to the unexpected insolvency of a major contractor.

The delay is expected to cost MK Council about £4million during the next year.

The Residual Waste Treatment Facility in Old Wolverton is expected to save millions of pounds over its lifetime and was almost ready to be officially opened when a major contractor went into administration. This 11th hour delay to the project means the multi-million pound dividends will not benefit the council as soon as it was hoped.

The authority had forecast savings of more than £4million during the coming financial year but now the financial benefits will be felt towards the end of the contract – in about 15 years.

The high-tech plant will save money by lowering the cost of disposing of the city's household waste as landfill charges have increased significantly over the last few years. In hard numbers, it is designed to process about 132,000 tonnes of black sack waste per year from households and businesses.

This will save an estimated £50million over the next 25 years.

Cllr Rob Middleton, portfolio holder for resources at the council, said "I am bitterly disappointed that this flagship facility is now five months behind schedule.

"At a time of budget cutting, the forecast savings of more than £4million during the coming financial year will be sorely missed."

Testing times: A team from The National Museum of Computing took on the Eggheads last night

Going head-to-head

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

A TEAM from The National Museum of Computing (TNMOC) based at Bletchley Park took on the Eggheads on BBC Two's popular quiz programme last night.

The team called themselves the Harwell and the Dekatrons after the museum's famous 1951 Harwell Dekatron, the world's oldest working digital computer.

The team were led by Dr Andrew Herbert and included four volunteers and a member of staff. Dr Herbert said: "As a bunch of geeks, we felt we were clued up for the science and tech questions, but felt very vulnerable on arts and culture questions. As good scientists, however, we researched the opposition because we knew we would have to try to pit our strengths against their relatively weak areas.

"We felt that we were like Daniel in the lion's den and were searching frantically for a sling shot!"

As well as Dr Herbert the Harwell and the Dekatrons team included Colin Eby, Phil Mainwaring, Andy Taylor, John Wilson and Matt Yeomans (reserve).

The 30-minute programme, which is presented by Jeremy Vine, is available to watch on the BBC iPlayer.

In each episode, a team of five quiz and game show champions (the Eggheads) is challenged by a team of five contestants for prize money.

Among the Eggheads who the TNMOC team may have to beat are eight-time British Quiz Champion Kevin Ashman and the first ever Who Wants To Be A Millionaire? winner Judith Kepple.

Dance festival will return to the Bowl

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

THE Electric Daisy Carnival (EDC) UK will return to The National Bowl in the summer.

Early Owl and VIP tickets for the event on July 8 went on sale on Friday, with prices starting at £55, plus booking fee.

People who went to this year's event were able to register for access to an exclusive pre-sale, with these tickets going on sale for £50, plus booking fee, last Wednesday.

It will be the fifth time America's biggest dance festival has been held in the UK and it promises to bring a 'show-stopping line-up, production and a full sensory experience' to the Bowl.

The VIP area for the 2017 showcase will offer unprecedented access to the VIP Village, alongside exclusive fast track entry, a cocktail and champagne bar and a private pamper parlour.

In July more than 50,000 revellers flocked to the Bowl for the dance festival.

The event, organised by

Time to rave: EDC will return to The National Bowl in 2017

Insomniac, featured extravagant stage designs, innovative art installations, carnival rides and costumed performers, all sound-tracked by some of the biggest names in dance music.

However, the festival hit the headlines after one reveller died.

The body of Liam McEwan, 23, from Northampton, was discovered at the Bowl but his death was not treated as suspicious.

Lifeline appeal

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@mcmk.co.uk

CITY-BASED Medical Detection Dogs has been chosen to be the BBC Lifeline appeal charity for October.

The charity, which trains dogs to detect the odour of human disease, will use funds raised by the appeal to progress its study into the early detection of prostate and breast cancer.

Medical Detection Dogs is at the forefront of the research into the fight against cancer and helping people with life-threatening diseases. In training trials, its dogs have been found to be 93 per cent reliable at detecting cancer, which is significantly higher than many existing tests.

Ambassador and BBC presenter Kate Humble was at the centre in Great Horwood last week to shoot the appeal mini-film.

She said: "When I first came here last year to see these dogs working, I was amazed by how quickly and accurately they could pick up a positive sample.

"These dogs, this charity, are doing something extraordinary – pioneering work that could save lives."

Claire Guest, chief executive and co-founder of Medical Detection Dogs, said: "It is a unique opportunity for us to make even more people aware of our goal – to provide a reliable, quick and non-invasive test for cancer and save thousands of lives."

Medical Detection Dogs' BBC Lifeline appeal will be broadcast on BBC1 on Sunday at 4pm and will be repeated on BBC2 on Wednesday, October 12 at 1pm.

It will also be available online from Sunday at bbc.co.uk/lifeline.

Milton Keynes Council is keen to recruit people who can offer a safe and loving home for a child/young person in care. We are especially seeking carers for teenagers. As a Milton Keynes Council foster carer you will be provided with a generous allowance plus support and training.

Our foster carers come from all walks of life and across a diverse community. They offer children and young people a nurturing, caring home environment where they can begin to thrive and reach their full potential.

It's a challenging role; one which will always ask for a great deal of input and support from you. However in providing a home to a child/young person who is unable to live with their family for a period of time you will be creating a wonderful experience for everyone involved.

Call for 'silent track' on new railway line

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

A COUNCILLOR is calling for plans to mitigate noise on the new East West Rail Line as much as possible.

Danesborough and Walton councillor David Hopkins is writing to Milton Keynes Council planning officers urging them to protect residents by insisting that Network Rail produces plans for extensive noise mitigation measures along much of the route of the planned East West Rail project.

He said: "Like many local residents, while being supportive of the upgrade to the route, I am deeply concerned that Network Rail may attempt to undertake the upgrade without having due regard of the impact the scheme will have on people's daily lives."

The line is set to pass through the parishes of Walton, which includes Caldecotte, Old Farm Park and Browns Wood, Bow Brickhill and Woburn Sands.

Cllr Hopkins has written to the council expressing his

Silence: Cllr David Hopkins is calling for 'silent track' to be used on the new East West Rail Line to mitigate noise for residents insistence that Network Rail installs 'silent track' along the residential section of track between Fenny Stratford and Aspley Guise.

The news that planners in Central Bedfordshire may be considering a rail freight terminal at Ridgmont and electrification of the line is planned providing a direct freight route from Southampton to Sheffield (via this line) have increased pressures for 'silent track' to be laid to mitigate the noise impacts of freight traffic in particular, which can be up to a kilometre in length.

Cllr Hopkins is not only requesting that future planning applications from Network Rail require the installation of 'silent track' as a planning condition but that monitoring of noise and vibrations to people's homes also be a condition of any forthcoming planning applications.

Refugees welcomed by company

WHITE Clarke Group based in Linford Wood is helping refugee families start their lives in Milton Keynes.

This week employees from the software company banded together to help Refugees Welcome MK introduce refugee families to our community.

The campaign group has helped to house five refugee families in Milton Keynes and will help to house another 15 in the coming years, as part of the UK Government's Syrian Vulnerable Persons Resettlement Scheme.

Refugees Welcome MK is working with the council to identify private landlord accommodation for these families. Once accommodation has been secured, help is needed to fully furnish and equip each house with everything that the families need.

White Clarke Group is raising money to buy household items and other essentials to help these families resettle. It will also arrange a volunteer day to help with furnishing new homes.

"There has never been a prouder moment for White Clarke Group, seeing the employees without prompt come together to help this great cause. I really appreciate the way in which everyone has come together to help and I hope other companies join us to give these families an opportunity to start a new and brighter life here," said Brendan Gleeson, group executive vice president.

Mural: Businesses from the Stony Arcade admire the mural that has been put up to soften the blow of fire damaged properties

The phoenix rising from Arcade ashes

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

BUSINESSES in Stony Stratford are on the road to recovery following the devastating fire in May – but it is still a long journey, according to one expert.

The town was devastated by the blaze five months ago after a historic building in Stratford Arcade caught fire.

The wreckage left the High Street looking an eyesore, so artist Kate Davies started a community project to design a mural that could cover some of the hoardings in the town and create a nicer feel. And there has been more good news this week as eight tenants that worked in offices in the Arcade have been able to return to their refurbished spaces.

However it will still take six months for Hairmasters hairdressers and the Mangetout cafe to return.

"The town was seriously impacted by the events in May but there has been progress," said Ross Ellens, chairman of the Stony Stratford Business Association.

"We're still suffering and still feeling the impact of it and we will do until such a time as the buildings are back, which could take two years.

"But it is great that we are making progress and the mural has been ever so well received.

"We're making steps to get back to normal but it will be a slow process."

Artist Kate added: "I am delighted that the boards painted by the Stony community have now been erected in the High Street covering where the burnt buildings were."

The Phoenix Project which created the mural still needs another £1,000 to help pay for the materials that were used.

Big change for owners as rates rise

THOUSANDS of firms are about to see 'the largest change in a generation' to the amount they pay in business rates.

Companies in Milton Keynes found out on Friday what their bill is likely to be for the next five years.

London and parts of the South East faced the biggest increase, but will also receive the biggest cushion from a transitional period.

Businesses' rates are an extra tax on the shops, offices, warehouses and factories they use. Rates are the third biggest outgoing for many small businesses after rent and staff costs.

Business rates are based on rental values, but also take into account things like the value of machinery and equipment as well as the sector the business is operating in.

When business rates are revalued, the Government provides a transitional arrangement, to help companies adapt.

The revaluation was due two years ago, but was delayed because the Government wanted to avoid 'sharp changes' to business rate bills.

Authorities keep 50 per cent of local business rates. The other half goes to a central government pool and is redistributed back to local authorities according to need. The Government is working towards local authorities keeping 100 per cent of business rates in what George Osborne called the 'biggest transfer of power to our local government in living memory'.

Right decision: Diabetes sufferers Mohammed Imran, far right, next to brother Mohammed Zubair, along with some of the team, have started their own business

Brothers' dream hits the road

A MAN who set up a business in Bletchley after health concerns is encouraging others not to hesitate in setting up their dream firms.

Mohammed Zubair spent three years training as a London cabbie but then his health deteriorated.

He was diagnosed with Type 2 diabetes and after months of treatment, four injections a day and a diet of drugs he had a radical rethink.

A decade later he has dropped several stone in weight, become an accomplished long-distance cyclist and runs a growing business with brother, and fellow diabetes sufferer, Mohammed Imran.

Called Deals on Wheels, it has just undergone a six figure investment and expansion programme.

"After initial treatment I started helping out at a friend's garage," said Mr Zubair.

"At 33 I went back to college to study motor engineering, then Imran and I started selling part-worn tyres. We sell 1,200 new tyres a month now and that's only part of the business."

Deals on Wheels offers vehicle services, repairs and maintenance at centres in Tavistock Street, Bletchley, and Bedford. The brothers by-pass traditional tyre suppliers, travelling through Europe and China to find deals.

Mr Zubair often cycles the 20 miles between the Bedford and Bletchley offices.

"Make the decision that's right for you," he said.

"We went into recession shortly after launching Deals on Wheels – that wasn't stress free!"

"But long term it's been right for us. We work hard, but it's paid off – that's all you can ask for, isn't it?"

Robotics to help boost business

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

ROBOTS are offering businesses the chance to transform the way they are operating and compete more effectively on the world stage – right here in Milton Keynes.

Robots have been around in heavy industry for years, assembling cars and lorries, and now they are beginning to break out into the wider world too.

Milton Keynes is at the forefront of this next industrial and social revolution.

A robotic office manager called Betty is monitoring environmental conditions at the offices of the city's Transport Systems Catapult.

Programmed with the latest artificial intelligence software, Betty is an example of a collaborative robot, or co-bot.

Two Biztech events in Milton Keynes will put the spotlight on these co-bots and how it is possible to collaborate with them, how they can be used by small and medium enterprises (SMEs) and what the future holds for businesses and consumers.

Presentations will take place at a breakfast event at Hotel Novotel Milton Keynes, in Saxon Street, Heelands, from 7.30am to 9.30am tomorrow.

The aim of this is to look at human factors, such as the psychological effects of working with robots, and how the size and cost of robots is now much more affordable.

It is possible that teams made of humans and robots collaborating efficiently can be more productive than teams made of either humans or robots alone.

Confirmed speakers are Mike Wilson of ABB Robotics, Cranfield University's Senior Research Fellow Dr Sarah Fletcher and Peter Williamson, MD of RARUK Automation Ltd.

Following the breakfast briefing Biztech will also be running an early evening showcase visit to ABB Robotics, based in Rooksley, on October 20.

How does an ordinary housewife become a notorious international criminal?

When Anne Darwin told the world – and her family – that her husband, John, had disappeared while canoeing in the North Sea, her life changed forever. She had just lied to the police, the press, her friends and neighbours and her own sons. While her husband hid next door, Anne claimed the life insurance – then left with him to start a new life in Panama.

IT provider is on the hunt for apprentices

LEADING global IT provider Computacenter has recruited more than 120 apprentices in the last 18 months and is currently looking to recruit another 18 across two offices in Bletchley and Linford Wood.

The roles are for IT service personnel providing first line support through the company's global service desk to a long list of immediately recognisable customers.

In the last six months, more than 60 young people have come through the programme and into full-time work at the company.

Cllr Liz Gifford, Milton Keynes Council cabinet member whose responsibilities include skills and economic growth, said: "It's always good to see new businesses thriving in Milton Keynes, particularly when they are offering apprenticeships to applicants, from a variety of backgrounds, many of them facing a variety of challenges."

As well as gaining valuable workplace experience in IT and customer service, the apprentices will gain the qualifications needed to kick-start their career, with on-site training delivered by Computacenter partner, Baltic Training Services.

Once the 12-month training period is completed, apprentices have the prospect of a full-time role with Computacenter, with a competitive starting salary. If you would like more information or to apply, visit www.tinyurl.com/computacenterapprenticeship, or email Cheryl Hancock at cheryl.hancock@baltictraining.com

New artisan pizzeria has a top-ping start

A pizza the action: Firezza store manager Jan Nova is delighted with the first month and the amount of orders

BY SUE WEBB

editor@onemk.co.uk

FAMOUS for its 'pizzas with passion', Firezza has cooked up a great start with its new store in Shenley Church End.

Based in Benbow Court, the pizzeria has had a brilliant first month and manager Jan Nova is delighted.

"We are getting there, getting up and running," he said.

"We are covering a large area and we are keeping up our good standards - we have had so many orders!"

Each pizza is handmade and fire-baked super-fast in Neapolitan fire-breathing ovens by experienced pizzaiolos.

And although Firezza uses only premium ingredients, the company ethic is that proper pizza should be for everyone, with low and easy-to-understand prices.

Edin Basic, the founder of Firezza, said: "We choose our sites very carefully and we felt it was the right time to join Milton Keynes' vibrant community.

"We've been welcomed with open arms and the reaction to our pizza has been brilliant."

Joint managing director Neil Lambert added: "Milton Keynes is a growing cultural hub with a strong foodie community that deserves proper pizza.

"We believe Firezza pizza will connect with the good people of MK, the perfect accompaniment when watching the game or treating the family."

With 17 locations already across London and one in Tunbridge Wells, Kent, Firezza's brand of proper pizza has proved extremely popular with those who appreciate artisan food.

Meal delivery firm broadens its horizons

A DELIVERY service for restaurant meals has expanded to Bletchley following its launch in Milton Keynes earlier this year.

Deliveroo is now delivering food from restaurants including PizzaExpress, Bella Italia, TGI Fridays and Eight Belles to people living and working in the town.

General manager Jeremy Rawlinson said: "We've seen a big appetite for Deliveroo in Milton Keynes so far - we're excited to be working with even more great restaurants in the area and to be serving the hungry people of Bletchley."

"We're looking forward to meeting new food lovers in Bletchley."

Customers can have food delivered to their home or office in 30 minutes for a £2.50 fee.

To order, all you need to do is type your postcode into Deliveroo's website, iPhone app, or Android app.

Pension choices

When it comes to pensions there is one age that really matters and that is age 55. Why? Because when you reach age 55 you can actually start taking money out of your pensions.

I say 'pensions' rather than 'pension' because most people have more than one and I'm not talking about the government state pension. You will have to wait a little longer for that! If you're below age 55 then you have time on your side to make a real difference to your retirement. When was the last time you checked your pensions? Do you even know how much they are worth? If the answer is no, then the first thing to do is contact each pension provider and request an up to date valuation statement. Then you need to decide whether it is worth consolidating them into one pot to make it easier to manage. The best way to increase the size of your pension fund is to pay cheaper charges and get better returns. This will take time, inclination and skill.

If you are over 55 you may still want to do the same thing but you have the added bonus of being able to draw money out if you want to and the pension allows it. Normal rules allow you to take up to 25% of your pensions as a tax free lump sum. You can either purchase a guaranteed income for life with the rest or drawdown from the pot as and when you want to. If you are still working, then this may not be the best idea as you will pay tax on the 'income' you take from your pension and of course the earlier you take money out the quicker the pot runs out!

Whatever you decide, be careful. The government has made pensions quite complex, there are rules on lifetime allowance, annual allowance, taxation, death benefits. The key is to know all the facts before you make your choice. As Warren Buffet, the world's most famous investor once said, "risk comes from not knowing what you're doing."

If you are approaching retirement and/or considering early retirement and need advice why not get in touch?

Festival is in the pipe-line

YOU will be transported back to the magical days of the traditional fairground this weekend when Milton Keynes Museum plays a decidedly different tune with its Organ Festival.

From the turn of the last century organs were the soundtrack of the fairground and the music making machines are still a thrill for those who remember them from their youth.

Youngsters will have a chance to hear the magic of the mechanical players that would have been a mainstay of the fair along with toffee apples, hoopla and thrilling rides, while the older generation can remember days gone by.

From petite music boxes to fair-ground centre-of-attraction exhibitors from far afield, it will all be part of the sound-sational event on Saturday and Sunday.

Some of the organs have been purpose built to continue the tradition and their creators will be on hand to explain their handiwork.

The musical theme continues over in the museum farmhouse, which will have its own display of chiming musical boxes and two miniature steam traction engines adding more magic during the weekend.

All the other usual exhibitions will be open too. Standard admission prices apply - £9 for adults, £6 for children and £7 for the retired and unwaged, which will also give you free entry for the following 12 months when Gift Aid is given. A family ticket (admitting two adults and up to four children) is £26.

The Organ Festival will take place from 11am to 4.30pm and more information can be found at www.mkmuseum.org.uk

CARROT AND PECAN CUPCAKES WITH HONEY CREAMCHEESE ICING

Ingredients

200g light brown muscovado sugar
200ml sunflower oil
2 large eggs
15g runny honey
1tsp baking powder
1/2 tsp bicarbonate of soda
1 tsp ground cinnamon
1 tsp ground ginger
1/2 tsp ground nutmeg
3 cardamom pods
pinch of salt
200g plain flour
220g carrots (peeled and grated)
80g roughly chopped pecan nuts
300g icing sugar
45g unsalted butter (room temperature)
110g cream cheese
15g runny honey

MASTERCHEF
2016 semi-finalist Jen Charlton, who lives in CMK, has teamed up with MK LIFE to share some of her tasty recipes. Whether it is for a dinner party, or to impress the family, she has some top tips for every occasion

Method

- 1) Preheat the oven to 170°C or Gas Mark 3 and line a muffin tin with 12 cases.
- 2) In a large bowl mix together the eggs, sugar and oil with an electric hand whisk.
- 3) Remove the cardamom from their pods and grind in a pestle and mortar. In a separate bowl, sift together the flour, baking powder, bicarbonate of soda, cinnamon, ginger, nutmeg, ground cardamom and add the salt.
- 4) Slowly add the dry ingredients to the wet and beat with the whisk until well-mixed.
- 5) Stir in the grated carrots, then stir in the chopped pecans using a spoon. Do not use the electric whisk.
- 6) Spoon the batter into the prepared cases and then bake the cupcakes in the oven for 20-25 minutes. Poke one of the cakes with a skewer and if it comes out clean they are cooked. Remove from the oven and allow to cool slightly. Then place the cakes on a wire rack to cool completely.
- 7) While the cakes are cooling, make the icing. Sift the icing sugar into a large bowl and then add the butter. Beat with an electric hand whisk until well-incorporated.
- 8) Add the cream cheese and the honey and beat until all the ingredients are fully mixed and the icing is light and fluffy.
- 9) When the cakes are completely cool you can ice them.

hairraising

YOU know what it's like when you are having a bad hair day so pity poor Rapunzel spending her life in a tower with a wicked old witch using her captive's locks as a step ladder.

Theatre of Widdershins have taken this Grimm tale right back to its dark roots, teased out the tangles and styled it into a beautifully coiffured hair piece.

This enchanting puppet show, Rapunzel and the Tower of Doom, at Stantonbury Theatre on Saturday promises plenty of body, volume and loads of highlights.

Tickets cost £11, or £36 for a family of four, from www.stantonburytheatre.co.uk. It starts at 2.30pm and is suitable for children aged four years old and over.

fancyfootwork

OVER a decade ago 17-year-old Gareth Gates burst onto our screens with his gorgeous brown eyes, astonishing voice – and a stammer so painful a panel of Pop Idol judges rolled their eyes at his attempts to introduce himself.

But the night of February 9, 2002 saw Gareth lose to Will Young and hundreds of schoolgirls across the country sob into their crumpled phone bills.

More than five million record sales later, he's now starring in iconic rock 'n' roll musical Footloose as Willard.

Why did you sign up to Footloose?

I played the role of Joseph in Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat at the age of eight in my first school production and it was here my love of theatre began. The great thing about this production of Footloose is our director (Ricky Plews) has tried to keep the show as true to the film as possible; there are lots of elements that were in the film but not in the original Broadway show that she has brought back

How's your dancing?

I'm a horrendous dancer. It's awful. But luckily I play a cowboy who can't dance in this show. I've had to do a bit of dancing for music videos and things before so I just get on with it.

Do you have any 00s outfit regrets?

No, I liked the white suit and the spiky hair and I think it suited me.

When you were interviewed in 2002 for Pop Idol, you said if you got famous you would 'help the hungry and the homeless'. Do you feel like you've made good on that promise?

I constantly try to help charities and in particular I regularly donate to African charities. It's something I feel passionate about. In the third world there are no benefits, no state aid, nothing. And the thing I'm most proud of is the awareness I've raised of stammering.

It wasn't really recognised as a disability when I auditioned for the X Factor. It would have really helped me when I was a kid if there was someone in the public eye who had a stammer.

You've added a lot of strings to your bow over the last 14 years – entrepreneur, acting, speech coach. How do your students react when they realise you're going to be their teacher?

I trained to be a speech coach with the McGuire Programme but my speech isn't really good enough at the moment to teach. My stammer is a constant struggle for me – I have to work on my breathing exercises every day and I've not had the time. I only came up with the idea for Cuppanut tea seven months ago and it's already being sold in 700 stores. I'm really proud.

Are you a cat person or a dog person?

I'm definitely a dog person – my family had a dog when I was a child. I'm thinking of getting a dog for my daughter Missy, I want to get something small and low maintenance.

The show is at Milton Keynes Theatre from October 17-22. Book tickets, starting at £21.50, from atgtickets.com

David Niven's naughty home

DAVID Niven was the sort of Englishman that is fast disappearing these days. Not only was he debonair, dashing, witty, stylish and an all-round officer and gentleman but he also enjoyed a long and glittering career in Hollywood.

This includes both as a serious and comedy actor in nearly 100 movies films right up until his death in 1983.

These included most famously central roles in several Pink Panther films as well as 1961's The Guns of Navarone, as a spoof James Bond in Casino Royale in 1967 and as a love-struck airman in the Powell and Pressburger 1947 masterpiece A Matter of Life and Death.

His early academic career was not such a success. He attended Heatherdown Preparatory School in Berkshire from which he was expelled for playing too many pranks on masters and fellow pupils alike, and had to attend a crammer in order to pass the exams to enter the navy.

which he failed to do and subsequently attended Stowe school.

autobiography The Moon's a Balloon, he records his time at Flint House as "a very pleasant interlude".

Flint house is now for sale for £3.25 million. It has five bedrooms, three bathrooms, artificial grass tennis court, an indoor heated pool and a separate coach house with three bedrooms.

Niven lived there for two years and, in his best-selling

Make an offer they can't refuse!

THE Godfather is widely recognised as one of the greatest films ever made and propelled many of its key actors to international fame including Marlon Brando, Al Pacino, James Caan and Diane Keaton.

The story of a New York post-war crime family's bloody business affairs, based on a novel by Mario Puzo, made for gripping viewing and is also arguably one of director Francis Ford Coppola's best films.

One of the most famous scenes is when film studio chief Jack Woltz wakes up in his villa to find his prize stallion's severed head in the bed next to him. In the film's plot it was placed there by the Corleone family to persuade Woltz to give a godson of Vito, the eponymous godfather, a film role.

The real villa is The Beverley House in Beverley Hills, Los Angeles, which as well as its connections to The Godfather comes with many other famous connections.

It was home to William Randolph Hearst, the founder of today's Hearst media empire which in the UK publishes Cosmopolitan magazine, and also featured in 1992 film The Bodyguard starring Kevin Costner and Whitney Houston. The huge villa is also where John F Kennedy and his bride Jacqueline honeymooned in 1953.

Such starry connections and location come at a price. The estate is currently for sale for $195 million, although you get a lot for your money.

It was designed by the architect of the Hoover Dam, has 19 bedrooms and suites, a huge billiard room, large formal gardens, an almost Olympic size swimming pool, floodlit tennis court, two cinemas, a terrace that can accommodate 400 for dinner and an overall footprint of 50,000 sq ft.

Where it was important to be earnest

It is now 121 years since The Importance of Being Earnest, Oscar Wilde's most famous play, was first performed. And yet it remains popular to this day, including a revival in 2011 as well as being adapted for the cinema three times.

Its farcical plot focusses on the degrees to which young artistic Victorians would go to escape the era's suffocating social rules and was set among a group of louche friends living in a boho area of central London.

The play opens in the apartment of the play's central character, Algernon Moncrieff and is where the satire first bites, ridiculing the rules of marriage proposal prevalent during the late 1890s.

The apartment was modelled by Wilde on a house at 14 Half Moon Street, a white stucco-fronted block called Gannon Apartments where rich young single men boarded at the time, many of whom were friends with Wilde.

The street is named after the then rowdy Half Moon Pub around the corner where Wilde was often to be found, and the apartments were opposite The Fleming, another drinking hole popular with London's then artistic community.

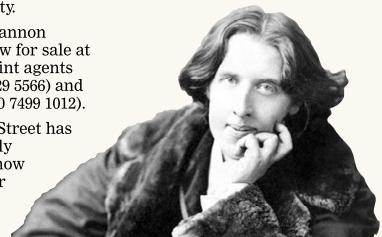

The whole of Gannon Apartments is now for sale at £14 million via joint agents Wetherell (020 7529 5566) and Knight Frank (020 7499 1012).

"14 Half Moon Street has been painstakingly refurbished and now oozes the glamour you would have expected to find in Wilde's day."

says Harvey Cyzer of Knight Frank.

"The property is part of a very exclusive selection of houses in Mayfair that offer all the mod cons desired by high end purchasers, as well as style and practicality."

For details call Wetherell (020 7529 5566), or Knight Frank (020 7499 1012).

Not your usual Hollywood film set, Mr Spielberg...?

WHERE better to set a science fiction film featuring a dystopian nightmare of global warming, energy supply collapse and gaming escapism than in one of the UK's inner cities?

That's the plan film director Stephen Spielberg clearly has as he is currently filming Ready Player One, a film based on the eponymous 2011 sci-fi novel by Ernest Cline, in an up-and-coming area of the West Midlands.

The film is set in the year 2044 in which an impoverished global population distracts itself from the growing economic and environmental disaster around it by living in a virtual world.

The film, which is to star Rona Morison, Ben Mendelsohn, Simon Pegg, Tye Sheridan and Mark Rylance, is due out in 2018.

During August Spielberg and the Ready Player One crew were spotted filming in Digbeth, one of Birmingham's up-and-coming inner city neighbourhoods, wearing his signature pastel blue liner shirt and panama hat.

It's a shot in the arm for the area, which is already a fashionable quarter in the city, although it's still in the throes morphing from a former Victorian industrial quarter into a design district full of creative agencies, architects and hipster bars.

Developers have twigged this trend and the most recent example is St Anne's Court, a 170 apartment development under way on Lombard Street near the Bull Ring.

When completed, many of the apartments will have direct views over the city's central skyline and the development is just two blocks away from Floodgate Street, where Spielberg has been spotted filming.

■ Apartments start at £159,000 via investment specialist Property Frontiers (01865 202 700).

The ultimate stable investment?

THERE is a name in the world of equestrian sport that will set many hearts racing and it's not a famous rider, horse or event, but instead Littleton Manor.

It's where some of the world's best eventing, cross country and jumping riders and horses are trained and is a Grade II listed house with 70 acres of land and one of the best equestrian facilities known to steer or man.

This includes 22 yard stables, a further 39 stables elsewhere, an all-weather international size dressage arena, all-weather jumping arena, covered sand school, British Eventing accredited country course including a water complex built by the same course builders who built the 2016 Rio Olympics course, a seven-furlong all-weather gallop, outbuildings, post and rail paddocks and woodland.

Such amazing facilities have attracted big names from the world of equestrian sports including event rider Kate Tarrant, six-time winner of Badminton Horse Trials Lucinda Green and 2016 Olympic riders Pippa Funnell and Camilla Kruger, among many others.

Littleton Manor has also hosted Great Britain's Elite Endurance Squad and the 2012 Olympic Eventing team. The property is located near Reigate some 23 miles from London.

"Its location, in rural Surrey but close to London and the international airports of Gatwick and Heathrow, make it the ideal place to live and train," says Louise Harrison of Savills Equestrian.

■ The property is for sale at £5.25 million via Savills, call 020 7016 3715 for details.

HawkMOTH swoops to scoop industry award

After practically only eight months to the day that Kathryn Hunter flung open the doors to Hawkmoth Property Consultants for the first time, she was last night receiving her first award having been recognized by her peers at the National Agents Giving awards evening at London's prestigious Lancaster Hotel. Having been a shortlisted finalist for Best Start Up of the Year Award just two weeks previously, the entire Hawkmoth team were present to watch her scoop the award for 'Best Individual Fundraiser' from a shortlist of nationwide big-hitters from the Estate Agency industry.

Phil Spencer, patron of Agents Giving and celebrity from television's renowned hit show "Location Location Location" hosted the awards evening and handed the winners glassware to a shocked but grateful Kathryn who has been a keen supporter of local charities and events within Milton Keynes but has also started her own charity Campaign for S.E.T.H (Supporting Education for Teenage Health) which drives the awareness of mental health issues in teenagers.

Agents Giving is the national industry charity for the Estate Agent and Property Industry. It works with Estate and Letting agents and their suppliers across the entire UK to encourage, support and recognize their fundraising activities. They organize events throughout the year to bring the industry together to raise money for great causes and have a lot of fun at the same time. The black-tie event at the London Hotel on Friday evening comprised not only the recognition awards but an auction to raise further money for their focus charities. Throughout the evening, the three hundred plus guests and finalists were treated to a host of ballroom dancing demonstrations by professional dancers and cheered with support for eleven brave contestants that competed for the Glitter-ball trophy for the Strictly Agents Dancing competition.

A spokesperson for the Agents Giving organization said "We have collated many fundraising stories, great and small". "Our fundraising champions do not only raise the most money or do the craziest challenges – sometimes it's the personal nature of the fundraising or support that makes it so very special".

Kathryn commented "I am truly overwhelmed to receive this award". "More than any business award I could win, this carries deep personal meaning to me and represents a lot of hard work to try and make a difference".

Hawkmoth has been nominated for four awards in the short time since conception. An award such as this is recognition for sure underlining that they are doing the right thing as individuals and as a company and that they are applying the right mind-set to not only good charitable causes but to each and every one of their clients.

TITLES OF MADE PERMANENT TRAFFIC REGULATION ORDERS:-

- 1 The Council of the Borough of Milton Keynes (Various Roads, Campbell Park) (On-Street Residents Permit Parking Area) Order 2016

- 2 The Council of the Borough of Milton Keynes (Various Roads, Campbell Park) (Off-Street Residents Permit Parking Area) Order 2016

- 3 The Council of the Borough of Milton Keynes (Various Roads, Campbell Park) (On-Street Restricted Waiting Area) Order 2016

- 4 The Council of the Borough of Milton Keynes (Various Roads, Campbell Park) (Off-Street Restricted Waiting Area) Order 2016

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Council of the Borough of Milton Keynes proposes to make two Traffic Regulation Orders under the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984. The proposed Orders, the titles of which are recited at the end of this Notice, will have the following effects within various roads and parts of roads within Campbell Park as stated below:-

- The introduction of on-street residents permit parking and 30-minute restricted waiting areas within parts of Albion Place, Amelia's Lane and Columbia Place, Campbell Park;

- The introduction of off-street residents permit parking and 30-minute restricted waiting areas within parts of Albion Place, Arcadia Lane, Columbia Close, Dalgin Place and Henrietta Way, Campbell Park.

Residents that will be eligible to apply for a resident's permit and visitor's permit will be those residing in all properties within the above roads.

All motor classes of vehicles will be affected by the proposed Orders except for motorcycles and mopeds.

Exemptions from the proposed Order include: emergency Service vehicles, statutory undertakers, some loading and unloading, building, demolition and excavation, and some others.

The reason for the proposed residents permit parking areas come as a result of displaced parking by visitors to Central Milton Keynes and members of the public attending events in Campbell Park, which is causing obstruction along the above named roads and preventing access to private residential parking areas.

Copies of the proposed Order together with a map showing the areas referred to along with a statement of reason for proposing the Orders, may be inspected during opening hours at Milton Keynes Library, 555 Silbury Boulevard, Central Milton Keynes and during normal office hours at Milton Keynes Council, Synergy Park, Chesney Wold, Bleak Hall, Milton Keynes, MK6 1LY.

Any objections to the proposals, together with the grounds on which they are made, must be made in writing and sent to the Network TRO Officer, Highways Department, Public Realm Services Group, Synergy Park, Chesney Wold, Bleak Hall, Milton Keynes, MK6 1LY to be received no later than 26th October 2016 quoting reference PH-S1-TRO-148.

The public notices for the above closures and Orders can be viewed in full at: <http://www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/streets-transport-and-parking/roads-highways-and-pavements/public-notices>.

New Q5 grows and sheds weight

By: David Whinyates

DESIGNERS and engineers at Audi have achieved the seemingly impossible in the latest version of the company's top-selling SUV.

For the all-new Q5 - revealed at the Paris Motor Show - weighs in at up to 90kg lighter than its predecessor despite being longer and wider with more room both inside and in the boot.

At 4.66 metres long, 1.89 metres wide and 1.66 metres tall with a 2.82-metre wheelbase the new Q5 has grown in nearly all of its dimensions.

Styling is evolutionary rather than revolutionary, but while the looks are unmistakably Audi, the latest Q5 has, in fact, been reworked from the ground up.

Driver assistance systems - some of them optional - are comprehensive and, according to Audi represent a next step towards piloted driving. They are bundled into three driver assistance packages - Tour, Parking and Parking Advanced.

The predictive efficiency assistant helps the driver save fuel by specific information on the car's surroundings. Adaptive cruise control (ACC) including traffic jam assist can handle some of the steering work in slow-moving traffic.

Active lane assist makes it easier to stay in lane while distance warning alerts the driver when the gap to another vehicle drops below a safe distance.

Cross traffic assist rear, an exit warning system, collision avoidance assist and turn assist are other new safety features while Audi pre-sense city is a standard feature which warns of pedestrians and vehicles and may initiate automatic emergency braking. Park assist, camera-based recognition of traffic signs and hill descent assist round out the available features.

When it arrives in the UK next Spring the new Q5 will be available with a powerful 2.0 TDI diesel engine producing 190PS. Soon after the launch a revised 2.0 TFSI petrol engine will also be available followed later by an intensively revised 3.0 TDI.

The drivetrain - including the six-speed manual transmission and seven-speed S-tronic box - have been extensively redeveloped and the Q5's auto transmissions now integrate a fuel-saving freewheel function.

The latest quattro all-wheel drive system comes with what the company calls ultra-technology which disengages the rear-axle drive whenever it is not needed and, if necessary, proactively re-engages it. The new concept boosts efficiency without reducing traction or driving dynamics, says the company.

SEAT Alhambra FR-Line 2.0 TDi

By: Ian Johnson

SOME years ago the MPV - or people mover - was the 'wow factor' on wheels.

They sold like hot cakes and were the perfect answer to family transport.

But trends changed and the SUV, compact SUV and lifestyle estate carved their slices from the MPV's popularity - so you might be forgiven for thinking that the people mover may have taken a back seat in terms of mass appeal.

Understandable really because one or two of the early ones did have the driving habits of an angry minibus but these days the MPV is going strong with some vibrant choices out there that prove that this concept is still going places.

One such is the SEAT Alhambra, a product of the Spanish arm of the giant Volkswagen Audi Group which means that there is a massive bonus in terms of quality of construction, design and materials.

Alhambra is not a new name in MPVs from SEAT but in its latest form, it is refined to a high degree to give a bang up to date take on what the customer wants from a vehicle of this type.

The model I drove, the FR-line 2.0 TDI 184ps with a six-speed DSG-auto transmission is at the upper end of the Alhambra range and gives an insight on just what a modern MPV should be.

For instance, its top speed capability of 134mph and 0-62mph dash of 8.9 seconds is enough to satisfy anyone who wants that bit more out of their people mover without resorting to out and out sporty choices.

It offers a super-smooth drive with surprisingly agile handling for a people mover and proved an ideal choice for both town driving and long distance trips.

The FR-Line trim is the top option for Alhambra and the black Alcantara upholstery certainly enhanced what is a very well specified car as standard.

Apart from a number of other trim features the FR Line treatment offers 18-inch alloy wheels which certainly make this model stand out from the crowd.

Wide sliding rear doors make easy access into the rear and it possible lower rows two and three flat into the floor, leaving a van-like load space.

And if you want to gild the lily there is a raft of options available one of which, the £155 Full Link option includes compatibility with Mirror Link, Apple CarPlay and Android Auto and should be considered a must for this thoroughly modern people carrier.

HOT HYUNDAI BREAKS COVER BY: CHRIS RUSSON

HYUNDAI is planning a hot hatch with performance to rival the likes of the Audi RS and even BMW's mighty M machines. Dressed to thrill, the Hyundai RN30 was revealed at the Paris Motor Show in concept form by Albert Biermann – the Korean company's newly-appointed head of high performance cars. Based on the New Generation Hyundai i30, the RN30 was born as a racing machine, and is the first example Hyundai's new range of N sports models announced last year. Powered by a 2.0-litre turbo boosted to 380 horsepower the RN30 is in the same league as the likes of Ford's Focus RS and the BMW M2. "The RN30 embodies the concept of a strong, high-performance car that brings dynamic, sporty driving," says Albert Biermann, who joined Hyundai after working for BMW's M division. "Soon to evolve into our first N model, the RN30 is inspired by our passion to provide a high-performance car that everybody can enjoy effortlessly." With huge spoilers and aerodynamic body kit, the RN30 concept has already undergone testing at the legendary Nurburgring in Germany and Mr Biermann said that an i30N was already slated for development as a production car and due for release next year. When developing the RN30, Hyundai's designers and engineers took a new approach to reducing weight and lowering the center of gravity. Instead of using carbon fibre reinforced polymer (CFRP) common to most high-performance cars, Hyundai broke the mould with all-new high-performance plastic materials, developed in collaboration with leading global chemical company BASF. The lightweight body is designed to boost handling and acceleration while inside the interior was stripped down and the seats pushed back and lowered to achieve a low centre of gravity, ideal for performance driving. The RN30 has been developed at Hyundai Kia's research and development centre in Namyang in Korea where Mr Biermann is based.

RIO READY TO RUMBLE

BY: CHRIS RUSSON

RIO has dominated 2016 and Kia is keeping the carnival feel alive with a spectacular reveal of its latest hatchback at the Paris Motor Show. The new model – the fourth generation of the Korean company's global top seller – will be on the road early next year. It's bigger than before, comes with Kia's latest design inside and out and will be available only as a five door model. Kia claims the new Rio offers more space inside than any other compact hatch on the market and boot space is 325 litres. It's features full connectivity including Apple CarPlay and Android Auto and will be the first in its segment to come with automatic emergency braking complete with pedestrian recognition as standard – which should help keep insurance costs down. The new Rio will be available with a variety of engines including Kia's new 1.0-litre turbo petrol and a 1.4-litre. Giving the car its world premiere at Paris, Kia's European boss Michael Cole said that the Rio had become a dominant feature of the brand's line up and stressed that the marque was on course to reach half a million sales in Europe by 2018. "Since we launched the third generation Rio in 2011 it has become our bestselling car globally," said Mr Cole. Kia also showed off a new look Soul and Carens MPV at the Paris show as well as its all-new Niro hybrid which went on sale in the UK only a few weeks ago.

SUZUKI BRINGS BACK IGNIS

features an integrated power generator and electric motor and a lithium-ion battery pack. There will be a choice of five speed manual or automated transmissions linked to Suzuki's viscous coupling four-wheel drive system which automatically distributes drive torque to the front and rear wheels when it detects the front wheel losing its grip of the road.

Amongst the new Ignis' advanced safety features are stereo cameras which function like human eyes, detecting lane markings as well as objects ahead and their distance away. Based on the size and shape of the object, the cameras can determine whether it is a pedestrian or another vehicle.

The cameras are used to trigger automatic braking when vehicles or pedestrians are detected, lane departure and weaving alerts.

SUZUKI has revived its Ignis badge with a new and technically advanced small off-roader which has been unveiled at the Paris Motor Show ahead of its launch in Europe next January.

Competing in the compact SUV segment, it may be small but it comes with four wheel drive, a host of electronic safety aids and a new hybrid drive system.

A 1.2 litre petrol engine combines with what the company calls a mild hybrid system which

RENAULT'S ELECTRIC CHARGE

BY: DAVID WHINYATES

EVERYDAY all-electric motoring has come one step closer to reality with the unveiling of a new battery powered model which is theoretically capable of being driven from the North of England to London on a single charge.

The latest Renault ZOE, unveiled at the Paris Motor Show, has the longest range of any mainstream electric vehicle at 250 miles (400km) – twice the distance delivered by the model at the time of its original launch.

In real-world driving, however, Renault estimates that the Zoe fitted with the new Z.E. 40 battery has a range of 186 miles (300km) in urban or suburban areas. Still pretty impressive and a major step forward for all-electric power.

According to Renault Group chairman Carlos Ghosn: "Renault has added a new dimension to the world of electric vehicles. It's a breakthrough in all-electric motoring that will provide the range needed to make any motorist comfortable choosing electric."

ZOE models fitted with the new battery are expected to be available in Britain in November.

FORD GIVES FIESTA ST FIVE BY: DAVID WHINYATES

FOR the first time in its history the Ford Fiesta ST hatchback is being made available as a five-door alongside the three-door model.

Applied wisdom in the motor industry has usually dictated that hot hatchbacks should come with three doors, but the decision by Ford to add the five door makes good marketing sense and will make this higher performance version of the Fiesta more attractive to family drivers who still want to get an extra kick out of their motoring.

It will provide additional practicality thanks to easier access to the rear seats for passengers and for parents with small children, while retaining the performance and driving dynamics that earned the Fiesta ST more than 20 awards around the globe during its first year on sale.

The model's 1.6-litre EcoBoost petrol engine delivers 182PS and 240Nm of torque, enabling 0-62mph acceleration in 6.9 seconds alongside 46.3mpg fuel efficiency and 141g/km CO<sub>2</sub> emissions.

The performance-tuned chassis features optimised suspension, steering and brakes, supported by enhanced Torque Vectoring Control – which applies brake force to the inside front wheel when cornering to improve road holding and reduce understeer without affecting speed – and three-mode Electronic Stability Control.

Exclusive exterior styling features on the ST include 17-inch alloy wheels, unique grille, dynamic headlight design, and a rear diffuser. Recaro seats and unique ST detailing feature inside.

"Growing numbers of customers have been asking us for a five-door version," according to Roelant de Waard, Ford of Europe's vice president of marketing, sales and service. "The Fiesta ST with five doors makes an affordable Ford Performance driving experience accessible to an even greater number of customers."

Priced from £19,495 in the UK on ST-2 and ST-3 series from October, Ford predicts the new five door model will account for 25 per cent of Fiesta ST sales in Europe.

EDGY NEW MICRA WOWS PARIS

BY: DAVID WHINYATES

NISSAN has re-invented the Micra – and the latest model, unveiled at the Paris Motor Show, is as revolutionary as the original. For the company's designers have totally abandoned the curvy styling which made the original Micra such a hit with younger drivers and gone for something more dynamic, altogether sharper and decidedly more edgy. In fact the Micra Gen5, as it will be known, represents a complete redefinition of the Micra style. This is a car with the wow factor - light years on from the cutesy styling of the original.

The Micra Gen5 is styled to turn heads, with a dramatic body length-defining character line. It is lower, wider and longer than its predecessors and has more interior space. It also has advanced new lower capacity turbo drivetrains and a full complement of innovative safety features. Exterior and interior personalisation options will allow for the creation of 125 different variations, enabling owners to stamp their own style on their new Micra.

This Gen5 will come with technological features normally found in larger cars including Lane Departure Prevention, Intelligent Emergency Braking with pedestrian recognition, Intelligent Around View Monitor, Traffic Sign Recognition, High Beam Assist and Blind Spot Warning. Together, these advanced safety features are the building blocks for Autonomous Driving and are an integral part of Nissan Intelligent Mobility, says the company. The interior will feature a 7-inch full colour central display, providing access to the audio system, satellite navigation, mobile phone, downloadable apps and Siri voice control via Apple CarPlay. When the car arrives in showrooms next year it will be available with a choice of a 0.9-litre turbocharged three-cylinder petrol engine or a 1.5-litre diesel, both developing 90hp. The range will be joined soon after by a naturally aspirated 73hp 1.0-litre petrol engine. Says Nissan CEO Carlos Ghosn: "When the first Micra appeared more than 30 years ago, it marked a revolution in the small hatchback segment and opened a new chapter for Nissan. The fifth generation Micra is just as revolutionary, and will raise expectations for what a hatchback can, and should, deliver to its customers."

A FORCE TO BE RECKONED WITH...

MEET THE TEAM!

Welcome to the Spray Team, your local friendly bodyshop.

Formerly operating as a well known national SMART repair franchise, the team at Bilton Road have been around for many years and can offer you a wealth of experience in car body repair. We specialise in quick turnaround, high quality repairs at a very competitive price. Most of our repairs go out the same day.

Christine has operated in Milton Keynes for 14 years under the banner of a well known national SMART repair franchise, firstly as a mobile OPERATIVE and lately from premises, gaining many repeat and recommended customers in the process.

Lavern has served over 30 years as a panel beater for some of the largest bodyshops in MK, and is one of the best in his profession. He is just the man to remove your dings and larger dents, and repair your gouged and concaved bumpers.

Rory has worked in the profession for almost 15 years, in bodyshops large and small, and was the best paint sprayer on his training course.

Redwan, our newest and youngest recruit, who is still serving his apprenticeship, is already showing his worth in supporting the team and learning new skills, and shows enormous potential for the future.

Our customer friendly team aim to give our customers the highest quality and service at a competitive price. We aim to turn repairs around within a day or less, although some larger repairs may take slightly longer, and to this end we have invested heavily in equipment to speed up the job.

As well as the usual range of small to medium sized repairs such as scratches, scuff, dings and dents, we are also conversant with the lease return standards and can give advice on what does (or does not) require repairing.

NEW IN!

WE ARE NOW PLEASED TO OFFER ALLOYGATOR WHEEL PROTECTION.

These hard wearing super tough nylon rims can be discreetly fitted to your alloys to take the brunt of any damage and protect your precious, and expensive, wheels, from damage. ## ICE HOCKEY

Lightning's unbeaten run comes to an end

MK LIGHTNING'S six match winning run came to an end when they were beaten 4-1 by Guildford Flames on Saturday.

However, they managed to bounce back from a first defeat in the English Premier League with a 3-2 win over Bracknell Bees on Sunday.

Saturday saw a lacklustre performance from Lightning as they only came to life in the final 10 minutes of the match. Frankie Bakrlik pulled a goal back towards the end but he was unable to change the result.

However they showed a fine response 24 hours later, as they travelled to Bracknell.

Twice they came from behind, Craig Scott with the winning strike, after goals from Blaz Emerics and Lewis Hook.

Despite Saturday's defeat,

Lightning remain level on points with Telford Tigers at the top of the table, with Telford visiting MK Arena on Saturday in a top of the table clash.

They will hope for a better display on home ice than against Guildford as Marek Maslonka's hat-trick inspired Flames to a comfortable victory.

After that Lightning have a trip to Hull Pirates on Sunday.

NEWPORT Pagnell racer James Nash moved a step closer to claiming the TCR International Series title as he clinched a double podium in the Championship's penultimate weekend in Malaysia.

Nash, pictured, finished third in the first race in his Lukoil SEAT before going one better in the second, and with Championship rivals faltering he extended his lead to 17 points.

He also secured the team title for Craft Bamboo Racing.

The races were held as part of the Formula 1 Grand Prix weekend and with Milton Keynes-based Red Bull taking a one-two in the main event, Nash continued an excellent weekend for the city.

In the first race he qualified eighth but fought his way through the field to take third behind winner Roberto Coliago in the Honda, while his teammate Kevin Gleeson took the win in race two, Nash following behind.

Defending champion Stefano Comini is his closest rival and finished second ahead of Nash in the first race.

But he would fail to score in the second race, after being given a 30 second time penalty for causing a collision.

Pepe Oriola, Comini's team mate in the Volkswagen and third in the Championship, also finished outside of the points having been caught up in a number of on-track incidents, with Nash taking full advantage by claiming second.

It means Nash has a 17 point cushion over Comini and 33 to Oriola, with 55 points available in the final two races.

Those races will take place on the Macau street circuit at the end of November in what promises to be a thrilling climax to the season.

"The point gap isn't enough for me to be able to relax, but it's nice to go into the last round in the lead," said Nash.

"I had a few problems with my breaks during the first race so it was tough going.

"If I'm honest I didn't think going from eighth to third was possible as I had a lot of good guys around me so I had to make a few brave moves.

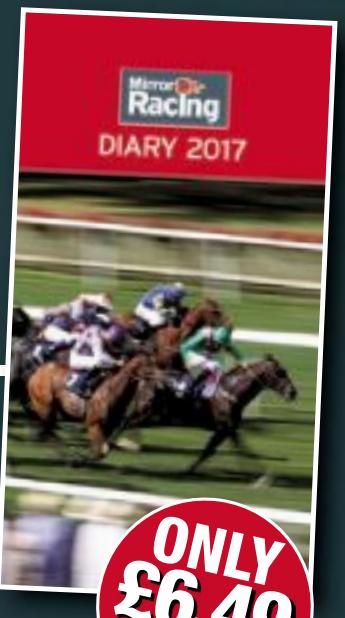

"As for race two, always being in the thick of the action is really hard and picking my moment to push or to attack is complicated, but it worked really well today."

A shoe-in for success:
Red Bull team boss Christian
Horner celebrates with Daniel
Ricciardo and Max Verstappen

Red Bull step it up in Malaysia

BY CIARAN THOMAS

editor@onemk.co.uk

RED Bull's Daniel Ricciardo won the Malaysian Grand Prix on Sunday, with teammate Max Verstappen completing a stunning one-two for the Tilbrook team for the first time in three years.

The win was Ricciardo's first of the season, and only the second time a Mercedes hasn't topped the podium in 2016 following Verstappen's win in Spain, and he celebrated in style by drinking champagne from his shoe on the podium. Mercedes' Lewis Hamilton had looked like taking victory on Sunday, only for his engine to blow up on lap 43, leaving the path clear for Ricciardo and Verstappen.

"What a day, I'm feeling a bit emotional and overwhelmed," Ricciardo said.

"This is probably the sweatiest race to do a shooey - I felt a bit sorry for the others having to drink from my shoe but the crowd were encouraging me!"

Team boss Christian Horner said: "To achieve a first and second here is beyond our wildest expectations."

Hamstring injury a blow for Baldock

Bowing out: George Baldock, with physio Simon Crampton, leaving the pitch at Oldham

DONS right back George Baldock could be out for up to seven weeks with a hamstring injury, as boss Karl Robinson said it was a 'big blow'.

Baldock limped off after 38 minutes of Saturday's 2-0 victory at Oldham and Robinson confirmed the injury was more serious than first thought. The 23-year-old has been ever present in the league for Dons this season and Robinson said: "It's a big blow to us, he's one of our best players."

"It can be anything from four to six or seven weeks but it's a bit unfair to put a timescale on it."

Baldock joins a number of players currently on the treatment table, including Scott Wootton, Daniel Powell and Chuks Aneke.

George C Williams will miss Sunday's League One game at home to Port Vale after being called up to the Wales U21 squad.
